“College ‘Who’s Who’ Lists 25 Outstanding Students”: Twenty-five University of Utah students were chosen for the “Who’s Who in American Colleges and Universities,” a list which biographs the top students in the nation. Listed among the recipients from the University of Utah are as follows: Howard Eriksen, Beth McCullough, Betty Booth, Frances Ellen Anderson, Marian Foote, Jack Okland, Deone Robinson, Virginia Beesley, Beth Calder, Robert Cutler, Arnold Ferrin, Barbara Paulson, Fred Sheffield, Emma Lou Warner, Barbara Hillman West, Joy Wilson, Frank Wood, Barbara Wright, Richard Warner, Helen Keeley, Midge Thomas, Winona Simonsen, Mary Jane Rich and Esther Felkner. Only 24 of the 25 students are listed, and those chosen answered questionnaires and received “keys” to signify the honor.

“Cwean Pledges Fourteen Junior Utah Coeds”: Fourteen junior coeds were nominated for the Cwean honorary service society, which requires that a coed must be a junior student, maintain at least a 1.8 GPA and participate in at least two extra-curricular activities. The coeds were nominated by Winona Simonsen, president of the Cwean honorary service society. They are listed as follows: Mary Beth Wheeler, Ellen Woolley, Joy Wilson, Dantzel White, Barbara White, Francis Ellen Anderson, Helen Cassity, Virginia Beesley, Shirley Stuart, Mary Moreton, LaRue Maw, Lois Nielsen, Bonnie Howells and Barbara Paulson.

“Staff Slates Publication”: The Pen, the campus literary magazine released a new issue on Wednesday, November 22. It featured an ink drawing by Douglas Snow; sketches concerning experiences in the navy by Lora Lee Huff; poetry by Norman A. Brittin, Emily Barlow, Gail Chugg, Norma Schmutz and Bette Pomerance; short Stories by Stephen Bogden and Algene Ballif; and a satirical article titled, “Too Much Realism” by Margie Clegg. The Pen also announced the addition of an art section featuring the best wood-cuttings done by students every quarter. The Pen staff includes: Emily Barlow, Beverly Burt, Virginia Leary, Norma Schmutz, Mary Rose Allen, Elizabeth Hellyard, Douglas Snow and editor Deone Robinson.

“Field Official For Red Cross Visits Campus”: Etta May Rose, special field representative for college units of the American Red Cross in the Pacific area, visited campus and met with the university’s chairman of the campus unit, Mary Wright. They discussed the program for organizing the unit, which was one of 30 in the Pacific area, volunteer service, training courses and assistance with the fund drives.

“Thomas Completes Volume Dealing With Utah Agencies”: Former university president, Dr. George Thomas, had just completed a new book titled, “Utah State Government and Federal Agencies,” which dealt with the history of Utah and its federal agencies and bureaus. Thomas was working on a second book concerning economics and the article lists his works. They are:

“European Constitutions,” “Civil Government of Utah,” and “The Development of Institutions under Irrigation.” Dr. Thomas is also listed in the “Who’s Who in American Education,” list, and was president of the University from 1921 to 1941.

“Williams Sums Up Career in Theater”: Joe Williams, Kingsbury Hall stage manager, will be retiring and moving on to the Deseret theater after 13 years. Williams, who began his career with the Chautauqua drama organization, is greatly loved by the drama department and will be missed, the article states. Along with traveling with the Chautauqua organization, Williams has toured to Australia and performed with famous actors, like Robert Young. He began his career at Kingsbury hall on January 6, 1931, under the direction of Maude May Babcock.

“Lees Picks Cast for Second Play”: Dr. C. Lowell Lees, director of “Skin of Our Teeth,” by Thornton Wilder, has chosen the cast for the play’s upcoming showings on November 16, 17 and 18 at Kingsbury Hall. “Afterthoughts”: Changes to the homecoming ceremonies are proposed. They are: skit and quartet finals to be extended from one night, to two, and that the general public be invited and charged an admission price. Secondly, that organizations cannot revise their skits after the preliminary showing. The reasoning for the changes is that if organizations entering skits and quartets know they are performing in front of a paid audience, they will offer a higher quality of entertainment. And, organizations will be subject to preliminary judging so the overall quality of the show increases. These changes, if accepted, will be put into effect for the U Day celebration as well as homecoming festivities.

“Pomerance Says: Pom Reviews Events of Hectic Week”: A review of the weekend by columnist states that the homecoming skits were a hit, especially that of the medical skit. Columnist details the joys and pitfalls of the other performances by Sigma Chi, PiKaps, Betas and Sigma Nu. Also comments on the Salt Lake Tribune’s efforts to scoop a story of from the Utah Daily Chronicle, and the Chronicle’s efforts into making sure that didn’t happen by staying up all night to make sure no one from the Tribune could “spy.” Columnist also comments on Friday’s assembly and the efforts by Joe Bywater, who portrayed the “Spirit of the Utes.” Columnist reviews the Ballet Russe and its production of Swan Lake.

“Letters: Nurses Declare They Are Part of University”: A letter to the editor written by Cadet Nurses Miss Joyce Barrett and Miss Shirley Aamodt, voice the nursing department’s disdain at a recent Chronicle article by Mary Jane Root. The article which claims that the tradition of the rostrum has been damaged by the nurses, army and neighborhood kids, was hurtful to the nurses as they feel they are a part of the university, just like anyone else. They pose the question to the editor, “do you think such statements as listed above in our university newspaper will tend to unite our student body as such traditions as the rostrum have done?”

“Donkey Defeats Deluded Sigs”: The Sigma Chis had much trouble getting a donkey, who was part of their homecoming skit, to behave. The donkey bucked off one of the boys as they attempted to ride it into town. It also refused to get into the back of their Plymouth coupe as they attempted to use a rope to get into the back of the car. The donkey’s owner came and took it away after the struggle.

“Epistles of Homer”: Author, Homer Buste, humorously writes of hard times at school. Missing home and not doing well in class, as well as being told he has an inferiority complex by his psychology professor and that his biology teacher thinks his emotional state is hereditary. He details the Ballet Russe and the recent election of President Roosevelt. The football team tied in a game against Denver, and Homer says one team member said they would’ve won if he carried the ball more.

“Attempts to Install Noted Club Fails”: A recent visit to the Denver debate meet has university debaters introduced to an organization called the International Club, which works for racial equality, informing members on international questions and formulate plans for peace to understand foreign cultures and develop tolerance towards them. The students urged for a club like it to be instated at the university, but to no avail. But, there is an organization in Salt Lake, which has the same mission as the International Club, known as Progressive Youth. The Progressive Youth organization is supporting a lecture on Russia and her place in the post-war era at the Unitarian Church, everyone interested is encouraged to come.

“Most Electioneers Win Praise for Fair Play”: All of the politicians who campaigned under fair and policy-based campaigns are praised. They kept their focus on the issues affecting the state, rather than the politics of personality. The university has also taken great interest in the elections of the governor, senate and legislature as they are the entities which appropriate funds to the school.
